

I am opposed to the proposed regulation on the grounds that it will impose undue cost on the public at large, to the benefits of a few media corporations, without accomplishing it's stated purpose of eliminating piracy. The proposed technology could, and probably will be used to reduce any fair use rights the public has.